Welcome to the new look Neuro News - your monthly e-newsletter focusing on news, knowledge and careers in the Neuro community.

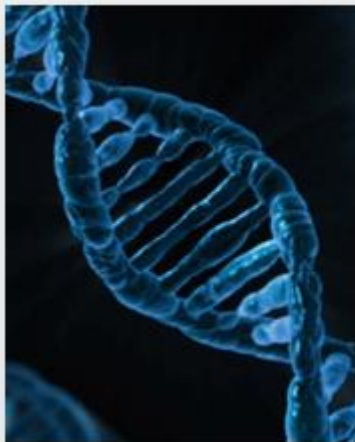

What is Neuro-News?

Neuro News is an online community-based website dedicated to providing you with all the important information you need regarding different neurological conditions. Our goal is to create a growing internet platform that anyone can use to connect with others and share ideas, knowledge and resources relating to neurological conditions. In order to achieve our goal, we need our users to make Neuro-News their own and get involved. We would be delighted to hear from anyone looking to contribute anything to the site.
